Off to Camp? Sure you can get there by car most of the time. But when the snow's too high or the mud's too deep you get there by trail, path, boat or "dead reckoning."

Seems most camps have a porch, a screen door and a warm, worn, old fireplace. Camps are usually simple, homey, relaxing. They welcome you back time and again to slow down, unwind and leave the world behind.

(straps around a packing box)

Camp welcomes you as our guest and friend. We're not very big and our kitchen is tiny. We go to the market every day and during the summer we use fresh herbs that we grow in our own lakeside herb garden. We may add an item or not have something else. It sure keeps things interesting! We've got great specials today. Make sure you hear about them!
